

ENROLLMENT PROCESS

All participants must first complete an application and be interviewed. At that time they may be asked to register with Texas Workforce commission and/or participate in vocational testing. After both the applicant and the DCWJC representatives feel that Christian Women’s Job Corps is right for them, a covenant will be discussed. The covenant is a commitment on the part of Dallas Christian Women’s Job Corps and the applicant assuring that each party involved understands her responsibilities and what she can expect from the other.

If you are interested in becoming a participant in DCWJC you may receive an application by calling our office (214-324-5665), e-mailing us at dcwjc@dallascwjc.org, or completing the following:
